ACTIVITIES

Faculty; Administration Provide Humor for

"An evening on T.V." set the theme for the faculty frolics of '67. The production's goals are twofold; to entertain students and acquire funds for the Sunshine Fund, which is responsible for cards and flowers when an illness or tragedy strikes a faculty member. Teachers of the various departments presented a program of skits and sketches all in conjunction with this year's T.V. jibe theme. Variety shows, movie programs and news documentaries featured a cast composed of teachers and administrative officials and presented a humorous note. Faculty frolics also gives teachers the chance to give their impression of student life as they see it and prove teachers are human. The idea of faculty frolics came into existence during Leto's first year of operation in the new school plant with the production of "Leto A Go Go." Since then it has become a yearly tradition through the efforts of the faculty and support of the student body. Faculty frolics is one of several traditional events set by both teachers and students.

Girls Add Spice to C.E.C.F.'s Calendar

COVER GIRL
Dore Carney

A yearly project of the Cooperative Education Department is a calendar which features thirteen chosen visions of loveliness gracing the cover, along with each month of the year. Made possible through the sponsorships of Bay Area businessmen and firms, the calendar has come into its second year of publication.

Chosen by review before businessmen and groups of judges, the girls are judged on poise, beauty and personality in addition to an acceptable average in class. The sponsorships are used to meet printing costs.

The calendar provides funds for the C.E.C.F., and also serves as a student memo on which dates or "Special Events" can be marked and remembered for future use.

The calendar is a tradition which the C.E.C.F. has established at Leto, and shall be continued throughout the years.

Mr. Roger Bell sponsors the C.E.C.F. and the calendar.

Plays Provide Both

Comedy and Drama

The players wore gaudy colors and painted faces, but the message cut the air like a knife
Through the drama comes life personified, not always ending in rainbows and gold.

Night to Fly Builds Spirit

The auditorium was a chaotic, electrifying and colorful madness of spirits high with hopes of victory the following night with Hillsborough High School.

The entire school was put into fits of laughter and cheers. A varied and stimulating program of skits by service clubs, music by the band, cheers by the cheerleaders and spirit by the student body made the night to fly a spectacular success.

Skits depicting the football players through satirical acts and the big hex on the enemy's team provide a foundation upon which the program is based.

And as everyone stood for the Alma Mater he was sure he felt stronger pride in Leto.

everyone shuddered, thought awhile and set to work,
determined to meet the challenge

It was met . . .

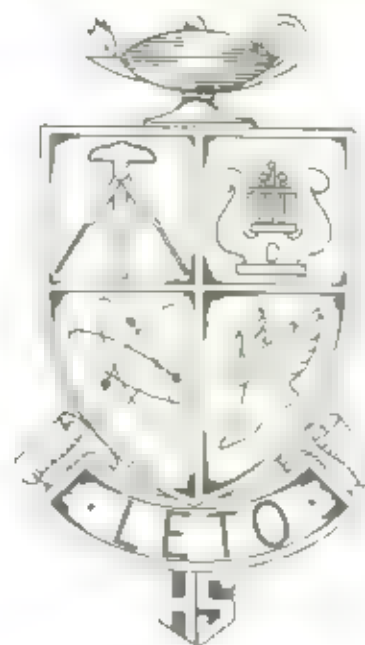

A queen was crowned,
the team stomped to victory,
and spirit was 'flying high.'

The night was 'out of sight.'

In the end, a mixed chorus
of sighs, sobs and laughs,
sang to a challenge . .

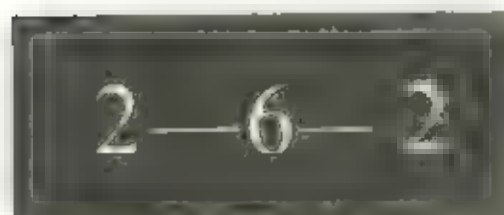

A challenge met successfully.

Varsity Creates Image, as Potential Threat

This year's Falcons were rather inexperienced and did not do as well as the previous season, but put all-out effort into the games. During the season, they tied Chamberlain and King. The Falcons had losses to Winter Haven, Plant, Hillsborough, Robinson, Middleton, and Lakeland. They beat Jesuit and Brandon. Coaches for the team were Salty Burns, Chuck Robinson, Larry Wagers, and Jerry Durnin. The team doctor was H. Rivera. Manager was Ken Nordyke.

Finding no room in the Blue Devils' line, Falcon Paul Leming goes over the top for the touchdown.

Junior Varsity Cagers Strive to

J.V. basketball is good experience for later competition. Hard work paid off for Leto's J.V. team. Players such as Rick Herceg and Danny Tracy gathered up quite a number of points between them during the season. Coach Tappe, the new addition to the coaching staff, put in a lot of hard work and learned some of the problems a coach can have.

Leto Trackmen Beat Paths to Victory

Trackmen at Leto worked hard to overcome the many setbacks they encountered, but natural ability and the desire for competition kept many participants of the team hours after school working hard to better themselves. Among the seniors on the team are sprinters Dennis Smith, Gary Huffman and pole vaulter Roy Welch. Many juniors will be returning next year, and hopes of a successful team are in order. Sophomores contributed greatly to the success of Leto's track team. Gary Tucker, Danny Hill, and Danny Crowley were among the sophomores in the winners' circle. Leto's track team did their best in the area meets they participated in, and for this reason Falcons must be proud of them

Falcon Baseball Team Has Good Season

The Leto baseball team had a very successful season this year. Playing about twenty games, they played half of their games away, and the other half at our new home field, McFarlane Park. The team had eighteen team members, with eleven seniors, seven juniors, and two sophomores. They had nine lettermen from the previous season.

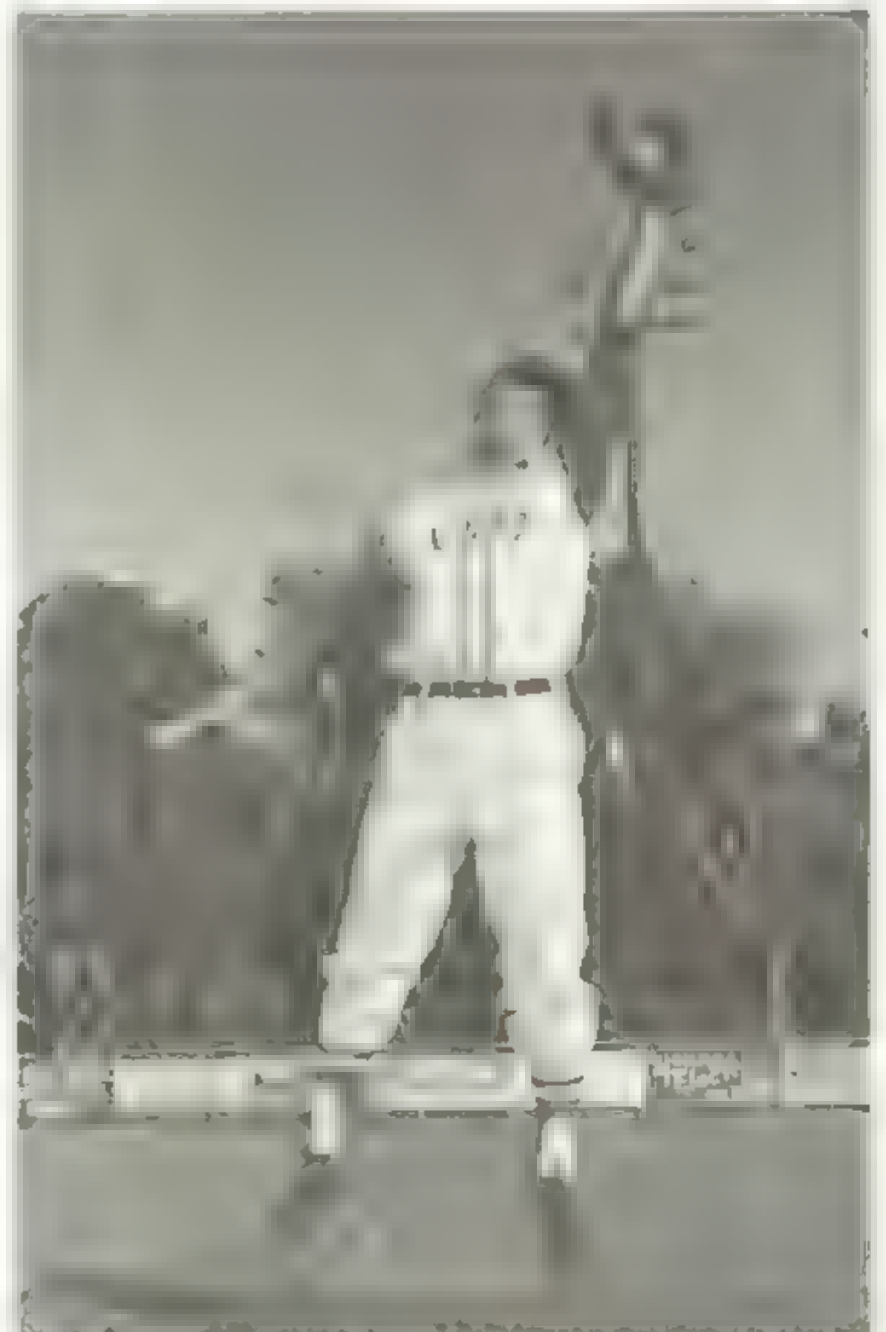

The team coach was Billy Howell. On the team's pitching staff were Mike Sparks, Gary Tucker, and Tom Figga.

Swimmers Defeat Chamberlain, Boca Ciega

The Leto High swimming team had a fairly successful season this year. With Bill Woolwine as this year's coach, the boys' team was captained by Doug Jones and the girls' team captain was Nancy Kelley. The team had many returning lettermen and members.

In the Robinson Relays both teams placed second with the girls' relay team winning 4 out of 4 events they entered. Both teams also placed second in the Leto Invitational Swim Meet. The swim team also scored important victories over Chamberlain and Boca Ciega.

N.H.S. Members Help Out During Walkout

"Leadership, character, scholarship and service are ideals which members of the National Honor Society put into practice throughout their years in high school. Excelling in all phases of academic achievement is a task which requires these ideals and then some. Students chosen must not only measure up to the Honor Society ideals, but they

Spanish Honor Society Credits Proficiency

To speak the English language alone proficiently is a major accomplishment, but to be proficient in two is exceptional. To credit this exceptional accomplishment in Spanish, the student merits installation in the Spanish Honor Society. The student meeting the academic requirements and taking Spanish is eligible to become a member. Mrs. Mary Natole sponsors the Spanish Honor Society.

Mrs. Natole, sponsor of the Spanish Honor Society, has made plans with her students for this club since Leo's first year.

Choral Ensembles Draw Musical Honors

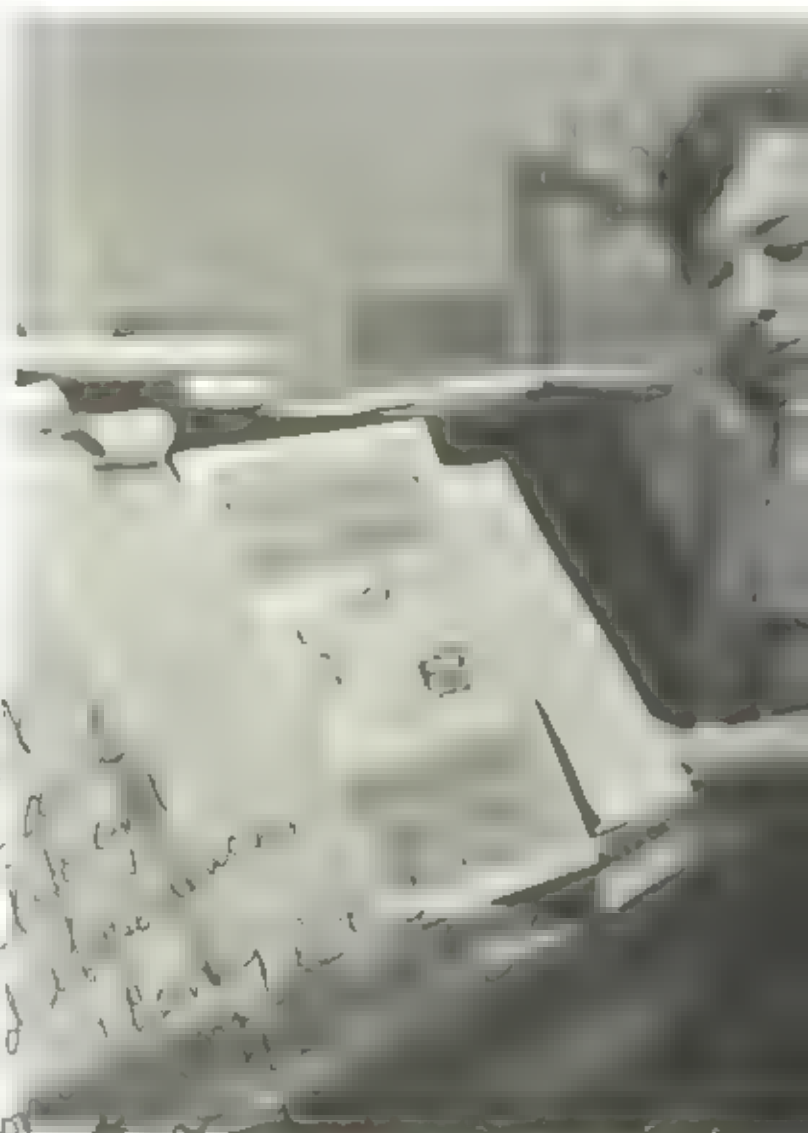

Variety and vocal techniques have established a high standard of excellence in the vocal music department. Vocal music, one of the universal languages, is handled and directed by Mr. Kenneth Marshall. Throughout the year, vocal ensembles have performed at assemblies, civic programs and concerts. The Concert Choir, Madrigal Singers, and Girls Choir perform in and out of school.

The Young Folk, their newest innovation, sing standard folk music along with contemporary folk songs.

This year the vocal ensembles had the opportunity to perform in the Kiwanis Chorale, a program featuring the Young Folk. All choral groups took part in the district contests, drawing additional honors.

Legend Is Official Student Newspaper

Legend staff members belong to a peculiar breed of humans known, among journalistic circles, as "Downright nasty newspeople."

The Legend has maintained its high standards of journalistic excellence. News, human interest, sports and editorial comments are printed in hopes that the reader may benefit in some way from it.

Through these "Downright nasty newspeople," comes a truthful honest and refreshing approach to a newspaper.

Joe Cano and Susan Williams call patrons to make sure they have correct ads to put in the newspaper.

Section editors Debbie Stillons, Gail Maroon, and Susan Yoho work together.

Bob Wickham, Editor in Chief, types his "witty" editorial.

Quill Contains Student Literary Works

Mr. Allan Manning, Leto's literary magazine sponsor, talks with several members of the Quill Staff

Displaying students' creative, poetic and literary talents is The Quill, Leto's "Lit. Mag." A collection of poems, essays, short stories and other literary works, The Quill expresses the thoughts and moods of student poets and future authors. The Quill Staff is responsible for sorting, editing material and maintaining good taste in the material published. Mr. Allan Manning is advisor of The Quill and a new teacher in the English Department

Raymond Shelton, Superintendent of schools

Frank Scaglione Heads Leto High

Mr. Scaglione glances up for a brief moment from his job as principal.

Maintaining his high standards in leadership and outstanding service, Mr. Scaglione has always proven his point: Leto is for real!

In his second year as Leto's Principal, Mr. Scaglione never stops working for Leto

Frank Scaglione

Along with his many other jobs as principal of Leto High School, Mr. Scaglione takes time to discuss problems facing Mr. Nelson as a teacher

Mr. Holmes, Mr. Dawkins Aid Principal

Without the help of Mr. Dawkins and Mr. Holmes, the job of Principal would undoubtedly be an impossible task. Mr. Marvin Dawkins, Leto High's Assistant Principal, carries on the coordinating of all student activities. Mr. Holmes, Director of Occupational Education, maintains the Occupational Education Department's many programs. He's a "Three year man" at Leto and knows his school well. Working together, these two men make a valuable team on Leto's Administrative Staff.

Mr. Dawkins makes all the important announcements that keep our student body and faculty informed.

Mr. Robert Holmes guides our vocational department.

Throughout all the joys of an assistant principal, Mr. Dawkins always manages a smile.

Deans Have Responsibility for Students

Mrs. Mahin, dean of girls, discusses one of the many problems facing office assistant Lynn Harrah

Keeping a watchful, but understanding eye on Leto's student body is a long and often sad task. Giving help to lost and oftentimes misguided Letonians is the primary purpose for the Deans. Without their Deans the school would face the gigantic problem of student discipline.

Disciplining those 'out of bounds' students is just one of the multi ples of jobs that Mr. Glochick does Honest Mr. Glochick can smile too!

Joseph Glochick

Alene Mahin

Mr. Hendricks, in addition to helping students, makes arrangements for our career programs on Activity Days

With the help of a career kit, Steve Moore chooses a future career

Mrs. Garrett, guidance office head, guides students in their careers

Guidance Counselors Give Help on Careers

The guidance counselors are an experienced and important part of any school. Through them an undecided, worried or confused student can be helped and find a future, loan for college, or a possible scholarship. There is a job which can be rewarded by the student that they help.

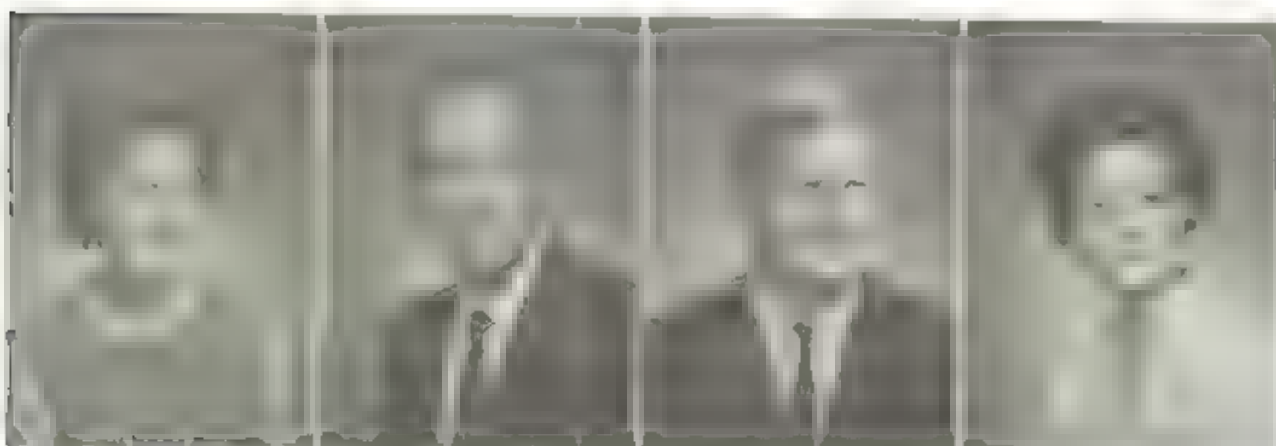

Mr. Hendricks plans some schedule changes with Donna Barbabe and shows her a list of subjects.

Talking to a parent Mrs. Garrett explains the graduate credit system.

Bob Cornette discusses with Mr. Mitchell his future college plans.

English Creates New Horizons for Student

English is much more than mere grammar, literature and composition. It also encompasses an in depth study of man's past, a look at his cultures, behavior and social customs. Versatile, eager and interested teachers, willing to work with students, make such a program available. Communication, a major concept in the English field, is shown to students at the sophomore level. It is constantly in use all through their high school, and college years. Independent study, a relatively new method is in use by Mrs. Leah Hackney

Ken Marshall Directs Leto's Choruses

Leto's Vocal Music Department has something to offer to a student with musical talent, the ability to sing and the desire to express himself with others

Out of the different organizations within the Vocal Music Department, a musically minded student may find a hard choice in deciding which to join. The vocal groups sing for programs throughout the year, also competing in choral contests

Edith Dickerson studies her music.

Mr. Marshall, chorus director, strikes the note to begin their new piece of music

Cosmetology Prepares Beauticians for Cosmetology is one of Leto's occupational courses. Designed primarily for girls interested in vocations after graduation, cosmetology prepares girls for a future job as a beautician, a manicurist or beauty culturist upon graduation.

Through this two year course young women can secure a good-paying and satisfying job.

Professional "hair care" performed by Aida Carbonell is a highlight of Leto's Cosmetology Department.

Practicing washing, setting, and styling hair is Sherry Freeman, cosmetology student.

Manicuring too, is a basic part of beauty.

Tech Drafting, Woodshop Enables

Technical drafting allows the students to uncover hidden talents in the fields of engineering, architectural talents or any technical diagramming.

In the wood shop, future carpenters and wood craftsmen work on projects applying knowledge gained from class instruction.

The occupational courses such as technical drafting and wood shop are added aids for students to prepare for a possible career in either area.

Juniors rise from Sophomores: one time "Wise fools" nurtured into the second stage of their high school growth process, almost freed from the cocoons of formative developmental study, yet progressively making headway toward the coveted spot of Senior. Taking up the "call of the Falcon," and preparing for the days of Seniordom, Juniors look to their future with mixed anticipations and anxiety

They are always asking; asking those questions which Juniors throughout the years have been asking themselves, "Who am I? Where am I going?" The "Class of '69," a unique composite of '66 Freshmen and '67 sophs, is the calling card of a spirited Junior Class: a class which has made tremendous strides in the past; a class which will carry Leto High closer to greatness

I shall be proud

Who's Who Honors Talented Leto Seniors

In every high school are the students who, in addition to a high scholastic ability, excel in a particular class. Because of outstanding achievements in their fields, they have earned the honor of being chosen to represent that particular department among the "Who's Who" of the year.

These students have devoted their time and themselves, not for the grades but because of their desire to achieve a high degree of proficiency and skill.

SECOND FLOOR

When the time has finally come for you to stop, when all is over and done with and ends almost as suddenly as it had begun and you allow your mind to wander through the garden of your past, you see what's happened or what could have happened during a short span of time, pleasantly packed with the bitters and sweets of growing, learning and being a part of it all, you're filled with assorted joy and sadness pride and shame, and only then you really feel what you've done was worth your while; only then you see how valuable and priceless the past really is and forever will be as long as you remember, for what's done is done, never to return except when one looks at it for what it's worth to him For these just beginning it offers hope of better things to come. For those leaving, it can never be erased, replaced or substituted by another thought. These have been times of change which gold nor silver cannot buy

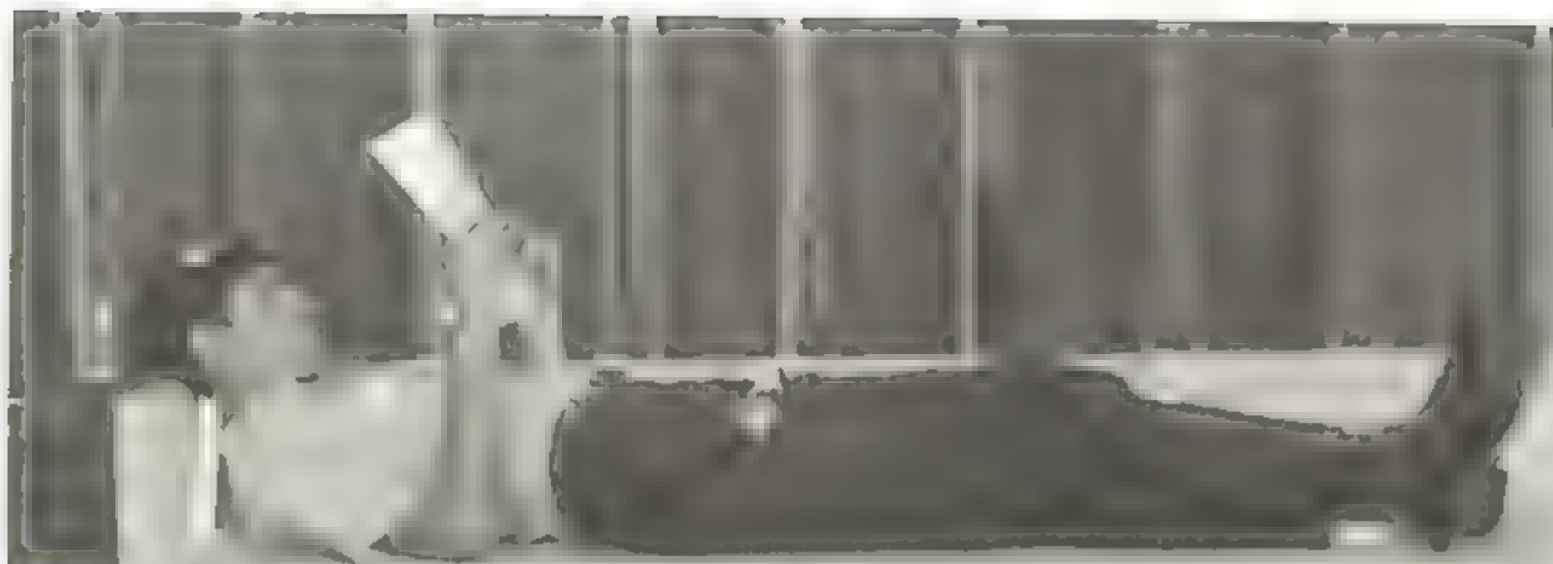

Rooms once jammed with bods 'n books are soon to be empty; to fill again with new faces, thoughts, ideas and the people who make it all worthwhile. teachers. Without its teachers a school is a mere brick hulk, without its driving force so vital that without it chaos, disorder and sadness prevails; a ship left to the inevitable elements of uncertainty, forever running helter-skelter through the churning, boiling seas of ignorance and despair
Though they seem inhuman their care is great, for their lifeblood pulsates through every hall, room and student passing through the big blue door of Leto.

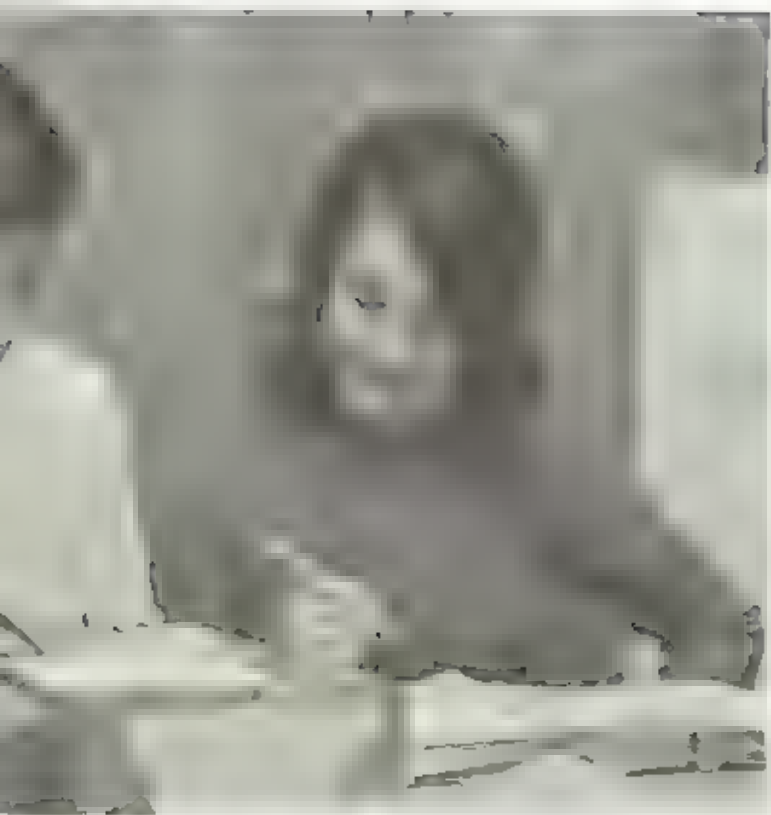

'67-68: chaos, conflict; disagreement, compromise, Southeast Asia escalates into full-scale war while ghettos burn, and something is finally done about it U.S. greenbacks take a trip to Europe, while Dr. Leary takes one of his own with a host of followers
 While Priscilla Pureheart worries about morals
 they change; Jefferson Airplane flies Trans-Love Disneyland hosts many celebrities as angered teachers demand better breadwinning conditions, the world keeps rollin' along
 On the local scene 15 boys turn Gasparilla into a

 I have observed you are a pretty neat kid and will most than likely go very far
 in anything you
 endeavor

I hope for you
 a smoothly paved road bordered with happiness and good worth

Good luck to you (and yours)
 Chris

Bob, know I hope
 you get a great
 well to have a lot of fun in the summer and have a good time
 for me

of Bob
like man
I hope it will pass

you make you collect
II. Robin.
